Building Capacities for Sustainable Development

Training Catalogue 2016

Message from the Executive Director of UNITAR

The world nations adopted the Agenda 2030 for Sustainable Development including 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and targets that will come into effect on 1 January 2016 and that will guide the decisions of UN Member States over the next 15 years. Advancing this agenda requires collaboration within and across countries and at the regional and global levels, all with different national realities and levels of capacity.

Training and capacity development are key supporting factors for governments at all levels and stakeholders to mainstream the SDGs into national and local development plans and strategies, develop monitoring and review frameworks, and translate the new agenda into transformative action at country level.

UNITAR's global network of "CIFAL" training centres serve government authorities and leaders mainly from local and sub-national levels, playing a critical role in communicating the SDGs and raising awareness of the universality of the agenda, ensuring full understanding and ownership. Furthermore, the CIFAL Global Network aims to serve as a platform to assist local authorities by facilitating city-to-city cooperation that lead to the development and implementation of action plans in support of the Agenda 2030.

In 2016, the CIFAL Centres aims to continue offering training and learning opportunities to advance sustainable development and support the shift from understanding the 2030 Agenda to the implementation phase. Each one of the 10,000 annual beneficiaries of CIFAL's training activities moves us closer to this goal.

Nikhil Seth
United Nations Assistant Secretary-General
UNITAR Executive Director

“ The CIFAL Centres reflect the reality that rapid urbanization has emerged as one of the great development challenges of the 21st century. By 2050 some seventy percent of the world's population will be living in urban centers. At the same time, the trend towards decentralization is also placing unprecedented control over social, economic and environmental decision-making in the hands of local authorities.

This makes local authorities essential partners of the international community in addressing global challenges. That is why, on issues as diverse as climate change and infectious disease, poverty and HIV/AIDS, local leaders are increasingly leading the march towards lasting solutions.

Reflecting this trend, UNITAR and its partners decided to expand their activities for local authorities. The CIFAL Network is a beacon for this partnership. It meets a crucial need to reinforce capacities and exchange good practices among local authorities, the private sector and the United Nations ”

U.N. Secretary General Ban Ki-moon
Remarks during the 2008 CIFAL Network Steering Committee Meeting. Atlanta, USA

Foundation

In the framework of the 2002 World Summit on Sustainable Development (WSSD) held in Johannesburg, UNITAR launched the Decentralized Cooperation Programme with the aim of building capacity at the local level. The vision was to create a training platform to channel cooperation resources to national actors working on decentralization and to local actors committed to the MDGs. In 2003, the CIFAL Network was created and three CIFAL Centres were established in Curitiba (Brazil), Kuala Lumpur (Malaysia), and Ouagadougou (Burkina Faso).

Mission

Strengthening the capacities of government authorities, civil society leaders and key change agents to advance sustainable development.

Strategy

In partnership with local governments, the private sector, and academic institutions, CIFAL Centres provide an international platform for knowledge exchange, supporting sharing and dissemination of best practices and lessons learned across cities. With its City-Share methodology, CIFALs foster multi-stakeholder collaboration that leads to the design of innovative solutions to address current challenges.

Over the last twelve years, the Network has reached more than 40,000 beneficiaries through over 500 training events. In 2014, the CIFAL Global Network reached 8,067 beneficiaries around the world through 66 training events. In 2015 alone, the Network will deliver 138 training activities, reaching out to close to 10,000 beneficiaries worldwide. As of 1 October 2015, 84 trainings have been completed serving 8,474 beneficiaries. The substantial increase in training services and greater outreach reflects both, the expansion of the Network and the continued demand for capacity building at local and subnational levels. In 2015, the CIFAL Global Network included in its training portfolio, activities aimed to raise awareness of the Sustainable Development Goals.

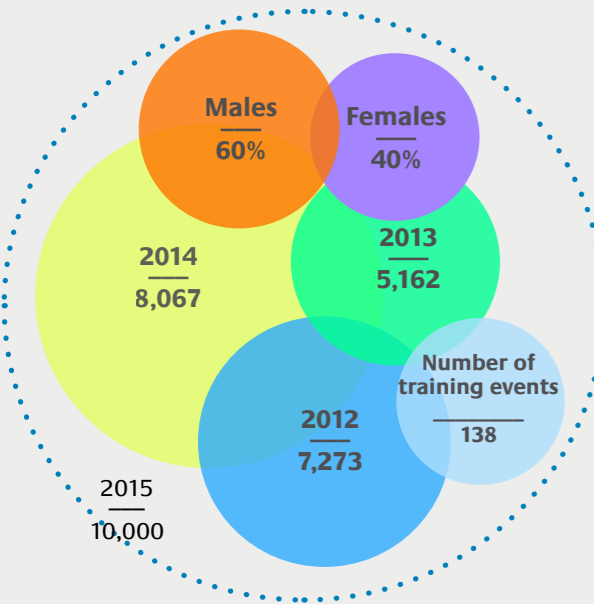

Highlights In 2015

Close to 10,000 government officials, private sector representatives and civil society leaders from around the world would have received executive training in 2015.

More than 120 countries from Africa, Asia-Pacific, Europe, North, Central and South America, as well as from the Caribbean will be reached by the end of 2015 alone.

138 capacity building events delivered by the CIFAL Global Network in 2015 covering a variety of topics in the areas of urban planning and governance, economic development, social inclusion and environmental sustainability
